

Synthesis of the "Return War Cycle"

Forecasts for the period 2022-2026 based on knowledge of the "War Cycle".

Thanks to this "War Cycle", by the end of 2021 we knew that the period 2022-2026 would see several wars. In the version dated January 23, 2022, one month before the outbreak of war in Ukraine by Russia, the war forecasts for this period 2022-2026 were as follows:

Forecasts in 2022 for the period 2022-2026 using the "War Cycle"

There will probably be new wars in the existing recurrent conflicts (see graphs):

- A new round of the Arab-Israeli war (according to rule A1) or an Iranian-Israeli variant (see War Cycle in the Arab-Israeli context page 33)
- A new European war (following rule A1) (see War Cycle in the European Context page 38)
- An episode of Indo-Pakistani tension (following rule A1) ... or India-China
- The A2 rule could apply to the war in Ethiopia that began during the mitigation phase and could escalate regionally if not resolved by 2023

As well as other new wars:

- One or more wars other than the previous ones (according to rule A3)
- Chinese nationalism could cause some sparks to fly, but not necessarily a new war. US-China arms race?

And the possible extension of existing wars

- Ukraine, Yemen are candidates for further escalation

The 2 main wars expected: one in Europe, the other in the Arab-Israeli conflict, actually took place.

Is it coincidence? Or the beginning of a new knowledge? Let's discuss the details of these forecasts.

Synthesis of the “Return War Cycle”

Why is it important to look at these forecasts in detail?

- Today, the real added value of this research lies in these forecasts. Given the inability of most diplomats and international organizations to have this kind of vision, it could be useful to them.
- Being able to predict does not mean that it will happen. Effective diplomacy can ensure that the prediction does not come true,

Until 2024, such forecasts have not been used. There is a kind of incredulity in the face of this reality. Those who are aware of it would rather deny the existence of such a cycle than acknowledge this disturbing reality. If we know how to predict, it's probably because a mechanism leading to war has been understood so that it can be transformed into forecasts, but such a reality is disturbing.

How can the behavior of some leaders be linked to this cyclical phenomenon?

When we think of Putin, Netanyahu, the leaders of Hamas and a few others, the disturbing question is to imagine that they are under the influence of this Cycle they know nothing about. Is the question misplaced? Nothing in current science at all levels can explain this reality, and current scientific ignorance could be used to deny any potential link. Don't be blind. It will be years before a coherent explanation can understand this link. Is that a reason to ignore it, because we don't know how to explain it? One so-called scientist even claimed that it doesn't exist until we can explain it. It will probably be a decade before we come to a coherent understanding of this phenomenon. Observing doesn't explain, but observing a phenomenon we can't yet explain is a powerful spur to further research.

Synthesis of the “Return War Cycle”

Representation conventions for the War Cycle

By convention, it is defined :

- An amplification peak
- An attenuation peak
- An amplification phase
An amplification phase begins with growth to the amplification peak, followed by decrease to the midpoint.
- An attenuation phase
An attenuation phase begins with a decrease to the attenuation peak, followed by an increase to the mid-point.

The periodicity is 3085 days, or 8 years and just over 5 months. The T0 of the cycle, on an amplification peak, is the date of the outbreak of the First World War. The value of 3085 days is considered to be an approximate average value, whose exact value may vary from one peak to the next.

Synthesis of the "Return War Cycle"

How can we demonstrate and convince people of the relevance of this "War Cycle"?

The existence of the "War Cycle" can be demonstrated by various complementary methods:

- Statistical method for the number of wars that break out during phases of amplification versus those that break out during phases of attenuation.
Complementary research has been launched to produce these statistics over several centuries. The first results (since the 19th century inclusive) confirm the phenomenon and show that the periodicity is 3095 rather than 3085.
- Contexts (geographical or other)
This method shows that, in the case of Europe and the Arab-Israeli conflict, the phenomenon generated by the "War Cycle" is indispensable for making reliable forecasts, as a complement to conventional geopolitical analysis.
- Materializing the "War Cycle" by taking into account the number of victims of wars
The hypothesis of "materializing" the "War Cycle" dates back to 2010, when the US military data on Iraq revealed by Wikileaks became known. In 2023, the use of UCDP (Uppsala Conflict Data Program) research results confirmed this hypothesis.
- War forecasts
It's also a way of demonstrating the accuracy of the concepts used, resulting in war forecasts that can be made several months or years before they actually happen.

Synthesis of the "Return War Cycle"

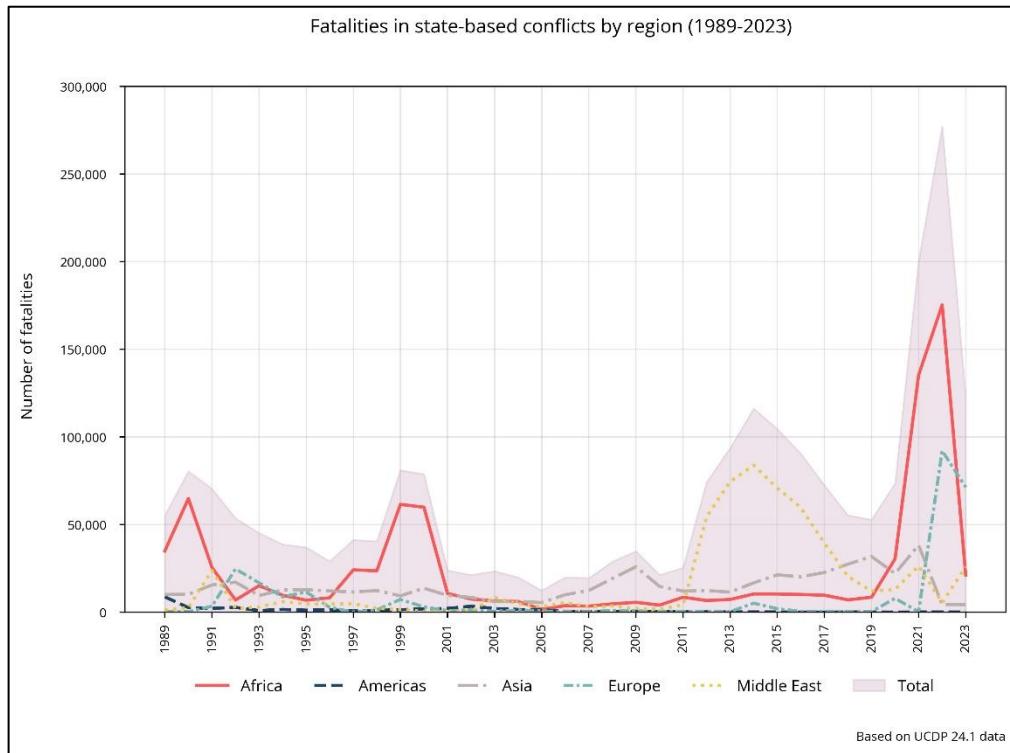

Materialization of the "War Cycle" from UCDP data

Although UCDP data has existed for many years, it was only in 2023 that we were able to see a correlation between the "War Cycle" and the available UCDP data. It's important to be able to draw on research and data other than that of the author of the "War Cycle" when dealing with a new and contested subject such as the "Return War Cycle". The fact of being able to draw on existing, internationally-recognized works can be a decisive factor for those who come across it.

This is a correlation between the "War Cycle" and the number of war-related deaths (fatalities in UCDP language), based on UCDP (Uppsala Conflict Data Program) data.

We present just 2 graphs:

First chart published by UCDP in 2024

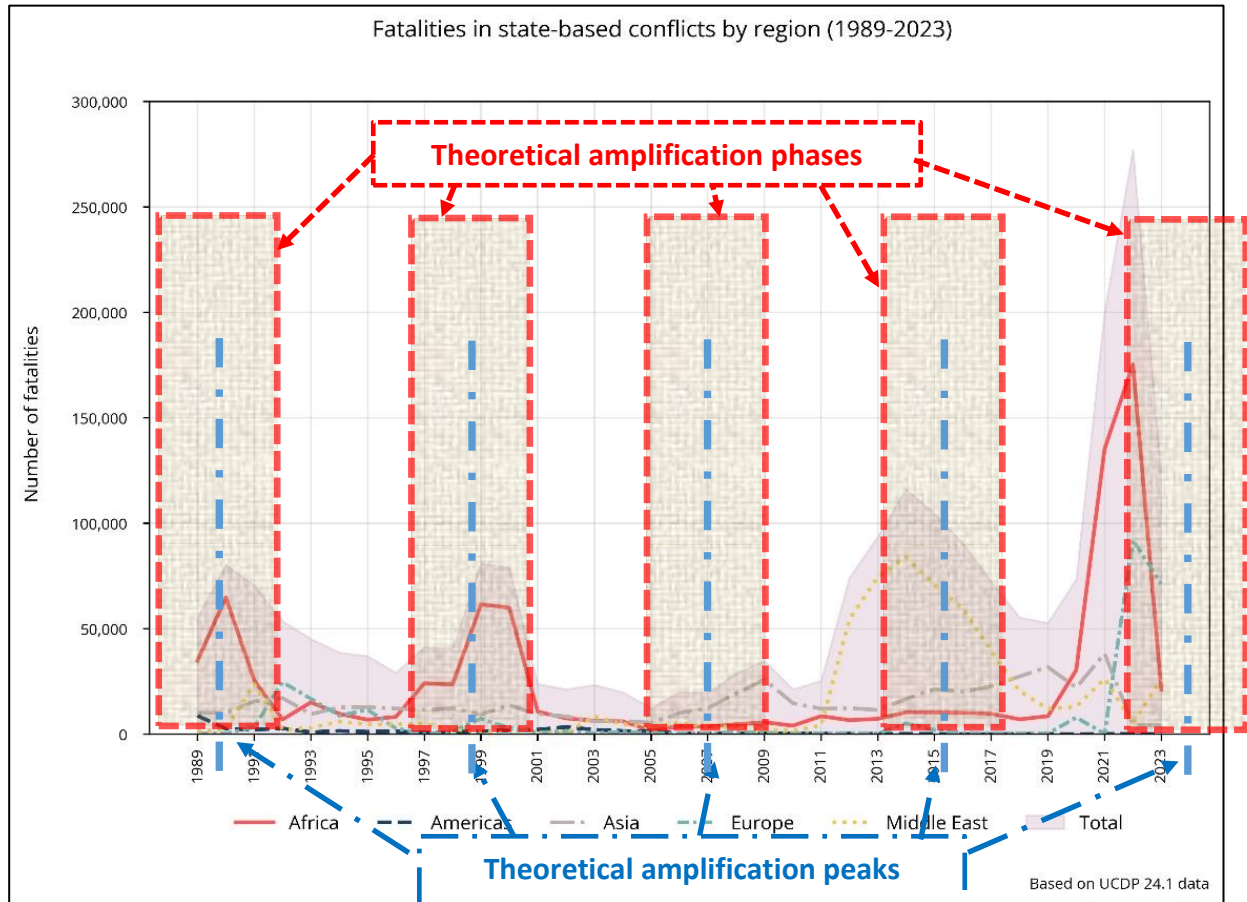

It shows the number of war deaths in different parts of the world.

Synthesis of the "Return War Cycle"

Second graph: superimposed on the UCDP graph are the periods of amplification of the "Return War Cycle".

What do we see?

A strange coincidence: peaks in the number of war deaths occur during phases of amplification, confirming the "materialization" of the "War Cycle" from the number of war deaths.

Some see it as a simple coincidence of 4 or 5 phases of amplification. Others are intrigued by the correlation between 2 different pieces of research, leading to indirect confirmation of the "War Cycle" and its materialization hypothesis.

There's a link that's hard to deny. A contradictory debate is necessary. Denial and refusal to see a link between the so-called "Return War Cycle" and wars is a common attitude on the part of many, including scientists. This research probably presents too many new concepts for immediate acceptance. It has been observed that many readers do not take the time to seriously read the research elements presented and limit themselves to a caricatured description of this research, unrelated to what is written in this research. Is burying one's head in the sand a solution? No, but it's a relief for some to believe that it's useless and false knowledge. In response to these "pundits" who see in it a false theory, the author rejoices in having a false theory that gives exact results, rather than having an exact theory that gives false results - or even no results at all.

- Some Research Notes, the most important of which is on the materialization of the War Cycle (NR-CdG-2023-4-EN). It is a correlation between the "War Cycle" and the number of deaths due to wars, based on UCDP (Uppsala Conflict Data Program) data. This research note is almost self-sufficient. You can read only this document, but if you read the other documents, it is essential to read this note, which confirms and completes the materialization of the War Cycle by the thousands of deaths resulting from wars.
